Pikes Peak United Way Trunk-or-Treat Event Brings Families Together

Second annual event held at the Family Success Center

Colorado Springs, Colo. — For the second year, Pikes Peak United Way and the Colorado Springs Police Department provide a fun, safe way for families to celebrate Halloween with their children.

In addition, thanks to a partnership with the Catholic Charities Coats for Kids program, children who attend the event can receive a free coat for the chilly winter months.

From 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Saturday, October 26, at the Family Success Center, 1520 Verde Dr. in Colorado Springs, families can trick-or-treat throughout the building with partners.

Children can play games, share candy, and experience a fun Halloween safely. At the same time, the adults learn more about available resources at the Family Success Center from United Way and its partners.

“This year, we’re adding more for our families in El Paso County,” said Elizabeth Quevedo, Senior Vice President of Community Impact. “Through our partners, they will not only have a fun day, but they’ll also leave with a warm coat! And the adults can learn more about what we do at the Family Success Center. At Pikes Peak United Way, we bring people together to create community.”
